Dear David,

Thank you so much for the chance to get together at breakfast last Thursday. I most appreciated the opportunity to gain insights from your recent trips, as well as your comments on my observations from my swing through Africa.

We have just published a survey of the recent performance of the Soviet economy and the prospects for this year. I am enclosing a copy in case you or your staff would find it a useful background piece.

Hope I can reciprocate with a breakfast or luncheon when you are in Washington before long. In the meantime, again many thanks.

Yours,
